

An English company is interested in your work on your project.
The boss is coming to France in three weeks.

In groups, you must present your project to him.

During the presentation, you must present:

- Why it is a good project (the goal of your project (the modification or the improvement of the system)).
- What you are going to do to realize your project (the different tasks).

For your presentation, you must use a digital support. This support could be slide show, photos, videos...
